1934 CEER

PUBLISHED BY THE JUNIOR CLASS OF

CALIFORNIA CHRISTIAN COLLEGE

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA

DEDICATION

Floyd Mercer

The history of every successful institution is the story of individual devotion, sacrifice and loyalty . . . California Christian College is no exception. Long years of tireless service . . . constant devotion through periods of depression and plenty . . . unswerving loyalty to the institution for which he has labored . . . these sterling qualities together with his capacity for human understanding have endeared Floyd Mercer to every student who has come in contact with him during his many years at California Christian College.

THE story of these past four years can never be adequately set down in words . . . This volume of the CEER is published only with the hope that it may serve to chronicle the more important events . . . to recall fond memories of friends and faces we have learned to know and to love during this all-too-brief interlude at C. C. C. As the shadows lengthen for each of us . . . as our paths lead us far from our Alma Mater and from each other . . . may these pages recall those happiest days just past . . . now so definitely a part of our very lives.

CHARLES C. CHAPMAN, Chairman

Greetings to Class of '34

AT NO time in the history of our country has there been greater demand for intelligent, sane and courageous leadership than at the present. The political, industrial, social and religious skies are gloomy and portend confusion, disaster and possibly a radical change in the form of our National Government. Many of the anchors holding the people of our Nation to high ideals of patriotism, family loyalty and religious fidelity have parted and we are drifting. Clear-headed, Christ-inspired, courageous leaders must come to the rescue and take control of the "Ship of State," or we may be hopelessly lost. I am happy that at California Christian College young men and women are being prepared to assume leadership in all departments of our National life. • May California Christian College never lose its high educational standard and ever maintain the physical, intellectual, social and spiritual training that has given it so excellent a name among institutions of higher learning, and which is so essential for complete living and the right sort of leadership. • My sincere wish is that every member of the Class of '34 may carry into his life of service in the world the spirit of California Christian College and so live that he may reflect honor and credit on his Alma Mater. Sincerely yours, CHARLES C. CHAPMAN.

A Solution • Now abideth spiritual, financial, and mental depression, and the most harmful of all is mental—meaning by "mental depression," in this case, a dearth of constructive, sympathetic ideas. The people of our nation are hard pressed because they refuse to reason intelligently together. • Did not the Prophet Isaiah say as much to the poverty stricken, degenerate Hebrews of another day? "The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib." Even the beasts of the field recognize the source of their supply. "But Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider." Blessed, times without number, by the Father's hand, they persisted in looking elsewhere for their spiritual and material food. • And it is so with our people today. Having learned through bitter experience the evils of war, of race hatred, of industrial strife, and of group and individual animosities, we turn again to hate, to quarrel and to fight, never recognizing the help of the Father's hand, nor the power of another's good will. "The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but—my people doth not consider." • To America of the twentieth century, as to the nations of old, sounds the call of the prophets of God: "Come now and let us reason together." Using the mental capacity that God has given to each of us, let us begin to think constructively instead of destructively. Let us plan how to help, and cease scheming how to destroy. Let us make Christ the unseen but honorary chairman of every social, political, industrial and religious committee. Then may we truly say: "Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love." • C. F. CHEVERTON.

DEPARTMENT OF RELIGION

BENTLEY

THE salvation of the world lies in the youth. This means that the work of the colleges is to prepare the youth of the country for the positions of leadership and responsibility which they will be required to fill. The California Christian College realizes that no student can be fully educated and fully prepared for life unless he has developed physically, mentally, socially, and spiritually. • The spiritual development of the youth must come in the Churches and in the colleges which are established by them. The purpose of this department is to develop Christian young men and women who are willing and ready to practice and teach Christianity. • Christ set us an example which we should strive to follow. This cannot be done easily, but we must prepare for this task which is ours. We must have a religion which is active, and which is one which we can use in every walk of life. Our religion is a living religion, and is developed by living it. This is the task of the Department of Religion: to develop the students in Christ-like living and in Christian thought and philosophy.

DEPT. OF SCIENCE AND EDUCATION

PEEBLES

A LARGE part of the students of California Christian College are preparing for teaching positions. This is the largest single field for which the students are preparing. This department is not subjective, that is teaching the subjects, but objective, teaching the students. We realize that the students who leave this college and enter the teaching professions must not be ones who are capable of teaching only the subject, but teaching the pupils who will be entrusted to them. • The task of teaching is building personality; and, we believe, Christian personality. Education is life preparation, and if our graduates cannot prepare their students for this, they have not done what they were prepared for. Specific subjects are necessary, and are good as long as they are used for the personality development of the students. If these subjects are merely forced upon the students, the courses have become subjective, and the student is not preparing for life. • California Christian College stresses personality development in all of its students, especially those who expect to enter the teaching profession. We realize that teaching is the sharing of experiences, and that the teacher must first experience what he is to share. If the students cannot get these experiences before they start to teach, they are not fully able to teach. • Therefore it is the center of the work of the Education Department to aid in the building of wholesome, complete personalities among all students, especially those who plan to become public teachers.

DEPT. OF HISTORY AND ECONOMICS

WELCH

THE Department of History and Economics brings the students face to face with the conditions of society. We must understand the present conditions, social and economic, but we must measure the present in terms of the past. Thus, the various branches of this department work to develop a group of students who are able to understand the present by a complete knowledge of the past and the present organization of our economic and social structures. • Facts are worthless unless they are applied; dates and names are only valuable for that for which they stand. A complete knowledge of the past and the present institutions is essential, but it must be applied to the present social order and the social relations of the students. • The world today is one of misunderstanding and of ill-feeling. We must correct these conditions, and this can be done if we understand the structure of our society, and have a genuine sympathy for others. History gives us this understanding of others; Economics gives us the understanding of the institutions and the principles of society under which we live. • This understanding and this knowledge of life conditions is developed in this department, which emphasizes preparation for our social relationships with other people. By the past we can understand the present, and prophesy the future; this knowledge of the past and the understanding of the present is gained in the Department of History and Economics.

DEPARTMENT OF LANGUAGE AND SPEECH

SPRONG

THE Department of Language and Speech is one of the most important, and yet one of the most neglected from a student's standpoint, of any of the departments of the college. This department includes Foreign language as well as English, and the speech courses. One of the most important preparations we make is for living with other people. We must have a complete knowledge of our own language, and be able to speak clearly and convincingly. • The English department teaches the fundamentals of written and spoken English, and also an appreciation of the best literature of all ages. The Language department broadens the knowledge and the understanding by offering a chance to learn the customs and the life of other nations by a study of the language which they speak. Foreign language gives a broader understanding of the English language, because of the comparison which can be obtained. • The Speech department teaches the fundamentals of speech, and also the more specialized branches of oral expression. There is nothing more essential for a fully rounded education and a preparation for complete living than to be able to adequately express yourself; this includes speech and drama courses. • Many drama presentations and oratorical contests have been successfully presented by the Speech department. Adequate self-expression is essential and is fully supplied by this department.

DEPARTMENT OF FINE ARTS

LANE

THE Fine Arts Department includes training in two separate and yet similar fields: music and art. The Music department includes training in Voice, Piano, Pipe-organ, Violin, the History of Church Music, Harmony, Composition, Orchestration, Ear-training, and Music Appreciation. There are enough courses for students who are majoring in music to get a complete course in the College. • The Music Department has been able to present many excellent programs during the year. The Glee Clubs of the California Christian College were presented to the public in the Churches, over the radio, and in public performances at the college. Many of the Music Majors were presented to the public by their professors. Numerous chapel programs were sponsored and presented by the Music Department during the school year. • The Art Department realizes that no life is complete without an understanding and an appreciation of the best in pictorial art. Courses are given to permit the students of the College to appreciate the best of art and its many fields. The history and an appreciation of art is taught, and many students take special courses in some certain phase of art work. The purpose of the Art Department is to create an appreciation of the beautiful. This is necessary for complete living.

CLERICAL DEPARTMENT

MUNRO

THE financial condition of the California Christian College was in a much better condition than it has been for the last several years. Although the student body enrollment has been much smaller than before, every student who is attending this year has paid cash for his tuition. The finances of the College were dealt a severe blow when the rain of January first filled the basement and the dining room with eight feet of water, but the College was able to clean up the school and be ready for school with but one week's absence. • This work offered a chance for some of the former students to work for the College and pay back some of their back debts. Although the work was supplied by the students, there was a great deal of expense which had to be met by the College. • Although it seemed hard to demand cash for tuition from every student, nevertheless we have given to the extreme to help young men and women to remain in college rather than to remain out of school. We do not despair but look forward hopefully with confidence in our fine student body and faith in the economic success of our College in the future.

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT

SUMNER

THE Library Department has continued to function as satisfactorily as it has in the past. The work of Miss Sumner has been very commendable. There has been a continued gain in the number of the books of the library. During the past year, there have been many books which have been contributed by the various classes of the school. This aids the students as well as the College and the future students of the College. • The Library staff has been very efficient during the last year. It is probable that there has never been such efficiency as there has been during the last year. The Library staff has been under the supervision of Ellsworth Lewis, who has spent much of his time in keeping the Library in good order. The members of the staff have been very efficient in keeping order in the Library, so that it is one of the best places to study. • Through the aid of the students and the faculty, the Library has been able to serve the school in every detail. The work of the Library staff is fully appreciated, and should be commended very highly. The Library staff expresses the desire to serve the students, and asks that the students will cooperate with them in every particular.

Student Administration

STUDENT EXECUTIVE

HAWKINS

THE Student Executive is composed of the student body officers of the college and the faculty advisors. The regular student body officers are the officers of the Student Executive. There is not a more active body on the campus than the Student Executive. The work concerns the activities of the student body and the student life of the campus. There are many activities which have been planned and carried out by the Student Executive; these activities have extended over the period since the dismissal of school last year to the present time. • The first activity of the Student Executive was the organization of the Council of One Hundred. After this was organized, there was the supervision of the College banquet which was held at Long Beach. The Student Executive dealt with the problems of the student body and with the specific problems of the administration of the student affairs. Other activities included the planning of the student chapels which were held each month; the Open House program; the activities for the promotion of the school. This included the Gospel Teams, and the work of the Cardinal Quartette. • The student executive has been very alert to make the success of the college even greater than it has been in the last few years. There was no opportunity which was passed up which could aid the college in any way. The Student Executive has been very active, and its influence has been felt in the added interest in the college.

STUDENT COUNCIL

DORAN

THE Student Council is composed of three faculty members —Dr. Peebles, Miss Elizabeth Pillsbury, and Coach Welch; and six regular members of the student body. The President is Bob Doran and the Secretary is Margaret Bothell. The purpose of the Student Council is to create a feeling of cooperation among the students of the campus along disciplinary matters. • The Student Council handles the cases of discipline among the students of the college. The purpose of the Student Council is to have a body of students who handle the student problems which may arise during the school year. • The work of the Student Council can be realized when the improved condition of the library is noted. The Council handles some cases of discipline around the campus. The work is not pressing, for there has been little to deal with. The work cannot be done away with, and it is felt that much of the success of the campus life is due to the fact that the students have been willing to cooperate with the Student Council.

PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL

THE President's Council is composed of the presidents of the various organizations and the class presidents. There are no regular meetings of the organization, but meetings are held whenever there is a need for one. The President of the Associated Student Body is the chairman of the President's Council. There are no other officers. • The meetings of the council have been rather indefinite, and at rather lengthy intervals. The largest share of them which were held this year were dealing with the changing of the name of the college. The rest of the business of the organizations was carried on independent from the President's Council. • The President's Council is valuable in coordinating the activities of the various organizations of the campus. This is the reason for which it was organized, and it has been carrying on these functions very successfully. Although the activities of the President's Council have not been very extensive, it is true that this work cannot be done by any other organization, and it is very important for this reason.

INTERFRATERNAL BOARD

FORD

THE Interfraternal Board is composed of two members of each fraternity and sorority and the faculty advisor. The main duties of the Board are to handle the disciplinary matters of the social organizations of the campus. The Board meets regularly and deals with the individual problems of the organizations and with the specific problems of violations of the rules. There are many activities of the fraternities and sororities which must be handled under the supervision of the Interfraternal Board. • There is no definite means of dealing with the problems, but the recommendations of the Board are given to the faculty and they are able to deal with any specific problems which are brought up. The work of the Interfraternal Board is necessary for the success of the fraternities, and it is well taken care of. • Although most of the work deals with the disciplinary matters of the fraternities, there is other work such as the interfraternal activities and other contests. The work is not difficult, but it is vital to the proper working of the social groups.

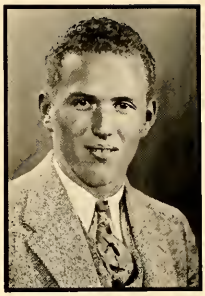
ASSOCIATED MEN STUDENTS



LEWIS

THE Associated Men Students is composed of all of the regularly enrolled men of the College. The purpose of the Associated Men Students is to form an organization of all of the men of the campus and to create a feeling of friendliness among the students of Cal-Christian. Activities are planned with this in mind—to gain the cooperation and the support of all of the men students in a common enterprise. • The men students held a stag at the first of the year and sponsored the Men's Return in the latter semester. The Men's Return was one of the most successful of any of the school's functions, and the work of the officers of the Associated Men Students should be highly congratulated. The men cooperated with the faculty and the student body whenever the opportunity presented itself. • The Associated Men Students sponsored a "No Shave Week" and a beard-growing contest. The Associated Women Students were very cooperative in this enterprise and their support was fully appreciated. Dave Dingilian was head and shoulders above any of the other contestants in the beard-growing contest. Jay DeJarnette was awarded the booby prize for maintaining the "Skin You Love to Touch." Other similar activities were sponsored by the Associated Men Students during the year.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

RUTHERFORD

EVERY woman student of California Christian College automatically becomes a member of the Associated Women Students. The purpose of the A. W. S. is to promote a spirit of cooperation and friendliness among the women students of the College. In order to do this there are many social functions which have been held. • The first affair of the year was a Pajama party, which was enjoyed by all of the women students, and envied by the men. The Women's Hi-Jinx was very successfully carried out. There were three men in attendance, but they were shown that it is not the purpose of the women to entertain them. A Christmas party was held for the Settlement Children of the community. At the party the women entertained the less fortunate children of the community, and the girls were helped more than the guests of honor. • The Women's Formal was a tribute to everyone who had anything to do with it. The decorations were splendid, and the program was excellent. (This is a tribute from the men.) • The women had separate chapels during the year and were able to plan and carry out the business and the socials of the year. The women this year have been very cooperative and have seemed to enjoy the parties and chapels which we have planned for them. All the women seem to be more interested this year than ever before.

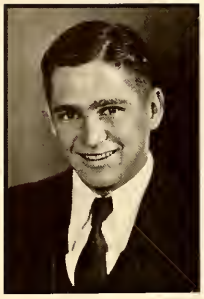
ATHLETIC COUNCIL



ENGLE

ALLEN

THE Athletic Council is composed of the Women's Athletic Representative, Edna Allen, the Men's Athletic Representative, Kenneth Engle, and Mr. Welch and Dr. Hertzog, who represent the faculty. The purpose of this council is to keep the athletics of the school under one central committee. The problems of both the men's and women's athletic departments are taken to this council for consideration. Its aim is to help. • The Athletic Council handled the athletic budget of the school for the last year. In addition to this, they were in charge of the arrangements for the athletic contests of the teams. This includes the scheduling of the games, the hiring of the referees. and the other necessary arrangements. • The Athletic Council decides upon the ones who have qualified for athletic awards and attends to the purchasing and the presenting of the awards. This includes sweaters for the Varsity Lettermen, numerals for the Freshmen letter winners, the women's awards, and the awarding of life passes to those men who have earned their varsity letter in the same sport for three years. • The awards are made in a special assembly which is in charge of the Athletic Council and is conducted by them. The work of the Council has been rather light, due to the lack of any urgent problems dealing with athletics. However, the work which was necessary was done efficiently and readily.

WELCH, ALLEN, ENGLE, HERTZOG.

RALLY COMMITTEE

RUSSELL

THE Rally Committee was not able to do much in the first semester due to the lack of football. During the basketball games it was possible to arouse some spirit and aid the team in winning their games. Some pep was aroused in the chapel meetings of the student body, and the support of the teams was very good. The lack of football made it hard to arouse interest in the later sports, so the Rally Committee had its hands full. The work cannot fully be appreciated, for its extent is not generally known. • Phil Russell was in charge of the Rally Committee, and Larry Sellars was the vice-chairman. The members of the committee were Ella Ellis, Nea Rutherford, Bill Linn, Catherine Webb, Doris Waters, Bill Coffey, and Eleanor Bothell. This committee has done a work which is very important, and which should be carried out with equal efficiency next year. • Much of the school spirit is generated by this committee, and the teams depend upon the support of the student body. It has been very efficient in the task of generating school spirit, and those in charge should be commended.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

GLOVER

THE Social Committee is composed of the following members: Peggy Glover, Chairman; Zelda McNamee, Eleanor Bothell, Wilder Immel, Joe Moody, Catherine Webb, and Ellsworth Lewis. The Social Committee is in charge of the activities of the school as a whole. The first affair was the College Banquet, which was the first day of school. Following this was the "Come and Meet 'Em," which was acclaimed a great success. • The traditional President's Reception was held and was attended and enjoyed by the majority of the student body. This affair is the one big formal affair which is under the auspices of the Social Committee and is enjoyed by all of the members of the student body and the faculty. • The Hallowe'en Party, which was held in the gym the Friday of October 31, was a huge success. A large share of the students was in attendance. • The Open House program was directed by the Social Committee and was one of the most successful ever held. There were over one hundred visitors who spent the evening with the college students. The last affair of the year was the College Picnic, which was held at the close of the school year. • The Social Committee has one of the most important of the duties of the college. They must create a feeling of friendliness among the students, and this has been done very successfully.

Top row: LEWIS, MOODY, BOTHELL, HAWKINS, IMMEL.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL

RUTHERFORD

THE Women's Council consists of the officers of the Associated Women Students, the president of the Y. W. C. A., the president of the Women's Dorm, the president of the W. A. A., and the Dean of Women. The purpose of the Women's Council is to coordinate the women's organizations for the betterment of the women students and their interests. The Women's Council had a meeting at the first part of the year to plan the women's activities of the year. • The Women's Council helps the different women's organizations to get organized and to plan their work and activities for the year. The activities are carried out in the respective organizations. Bi-monthly or monthly meetings are held. This allows any of the members to present any new programs which they may desire to carry out. • There is one affair, the Women's Formal, which is planned and carried out by the Women's Council. The members of the Council act as the chairmen of the various committees, and head up the arrangements of the Formal. The success of the Council can be seen by the excellent way in which the Women's Formal was presented. This was one of the best formals which has ever been presented in honor of the men students of the campus. • The Women's Council works very well in planning the year's activities for the women. It organizes the four organizations and gives an insight into each organization and what they are doing. It harmonizes the women's organizations of the campus, and enables the different presidents to work together in the promotion of interests of the women students.

STUDENT STORE

BROWN

THE Student Store has been under the management of Norman Brown, who has increased the size of the store from one to two rooms. The store has increased its stock from about two hundred dollars to merchandise which totals nine hundred dollars in value. The store handles all of the supplies of the school, including text-books, other good books on religion and social service, stationery, athletic equipment, sweaters, and candy and refreshment. • The Student Store plans to conduct a circulating library in the near future, in which the latest and best books in religion, social service, and education will be obtainable. This is but one of the many projects of the Student Store. • Bob Forbes is the assistant to Norman Brown, and Martha Shelton is the secretary. Burt Anderson is in charge of publicity and advertising. The clerks of the store are: Mary Brinegar, Ruby Hamilton, Jean Gifford, Phyllis Gerrard, and Chuck Lund. Dr. Bose and Dr. Sprong are the faculty advisors of the group. • The Student Store is a student project, for forty per cent of the profits of the store go to the student body. The store cooperates with the teachers and the students in purchasing the text-books which are required. This is a good work, and deserves the support of all of the students of California Christian College.

Top row: FORBES, MCADAMS, LUND.

THE HOUSE COMMITTEES

THE House Committee is composed of the executive committees of the Men's and Women's Dormitories. The House Committees were formed to relieve the duties of the Deans, and to aid in the government of the dormitories. They work with the Deans in planning the activities of the Dormitories and in discussing and solving the problems of the Dorms. • The Women's House Committee acts as the executive for the Women's Dormitory, and as a committee on late leaves, questions of discipline, and dormitory cooperation. The work is very important in order to assure the continued cooperation and order which has been established in the Women's Dormitory. • The Men's House Committee is composed of the executive committee of the Men's Dormitory, and the House Committee, which was established by it this year. They handle all of the business of the dorm and work with Dr. Bose in maintaining order in the dorm. The Men's Dormitory has been very well handled this year, and the work of these committees has been very much appreciated. • There have been no problems which have confronted the House Committees as a combined group, so the work has been carried on separately. The House Committees combined their efforts in planning and sponsoring a Christmas party which was enjoyed by the members of the Dormitories. The rest of the activities have been separate.

THE Senior Class stands upon the threshold of the world—a world that will depend upon their kind for the character of its tomorrow. Behind them lie the halls of their Alma Mater—halls that have been hallowed for them by four years of increasing devotion. Here they have been given the strength of pure ideals, the light of the earth's wisdom, and the divine vision of eternity. With these treasures they go out to enrich their fellowmen. They face the future with a courage born of complete preparation. If they turn to look upon the past, it will be with love; there are no regrets. • To make their last year their most successful year the Seniors worked diligently, sponsoring a benefit play—"The Booster"—and contributing to all college functions. • The class gave two Guest Night programs in the Dining Room. These were among the most delightful dinner entertainments of the year. • Near the end of the year the class surreptitiously forsook their books to go to Glen Ranch for their traditional "Ditch Day." • As the New Year's flood warped the Dining Room chairs beyond practical use the college was most appreciative of the Senior Class gift —a complete set of new chairs. • The Annual Banquet will long be remembered by the Class of '34 as one of its most successful functions. • The impressive Class Day activities will remain outstanding in the final chapter of the Senior's college life.

PROVING their reputation for being one of the most enthusiastic classes Cal-Christian has ever seen, the Class of '35 crowded the year with parties and interesting entertainments. • The social calendar was opened with the successful Junior-Freshman party. This affair gave the bewildered Frosh the confidence in the upper-classmen which they so sadly needed. • The Juniors proved their athletic prowess by winning the interclass baseball and basketball championships. • The social year was brought to a climax on May 26, with the Junior-Senior party, given in honor of the graduating class. The high points of the evening were the reading of the "Class Will" and the "Prophecy." The party was held in the beach home of Charles Wickett. • The friendly guidance of the Junior Class did much to help the Freshmen begin their college days with the true Cal-Christian spirit.

GUIDED by enthusiastic and resourceful officers, the Class of '36 set a standard for well-planned social affairs that will be hard to equal in the future. • The class year was officially opened by the Freshman-Sophomore party. Held in Santa Monica on October the sixth, it convinced those attending that college days are happy days. • On February the tenth, the Sophomores hiked up the four-mile trail to lovely Camp Switzer's. • The Soph-Senior Formal—"Insanities"—proved that the Class of '36 had several members worthy of being among the royalty of entertainers. The interest in this event reached such a height that the Formal was thrown open to the entire student body. This move was not unwarranted for among the beautiful surroundings of the Hollywood Country Club the affair reached an unprecedented place among successful college entertainments. • Despite the vigilance of the Freshmen, several members of the Sophomore Class succeeded in attending the "Frosh Ditch" party. • Displaying exceptional ingenuity in money-raising, the Sophs added to their treasury by several "Ice Cream Sales."

SEPTEMBER never brought a more independent group of Freshmen to Cal-Christian than the Class of '37. A few, but a very few, of the more timorous affected the traditional "beanies." The majority went bareheaded and unashamed. To climax this insurrection of the "unlearned" the first-year men buried all remnants of Sophomore supremacy in the muddy depths of the Frosh-Soph Brawl. This victory left the primacy of the green banner unquestioned. • Social activities were given impetus with the Ditch Party. A few brave Sophs succeeded in destroying the secrecy of this affair, but despite this handicap the party was very successful. • Later in the year the Freshman-Junior Party provided an enjoyable evening for the members of both classes. • The Sophomores grew so fond of their precocious underlings that they joined them in both a party and a hike. No one suffered any disappointments. • With their faith in Santa Claus unshaken by college, the Freshmen gave themselves a Christmas Party just before the mid-year holidays. Keep up your enthusiasm, '37, and soon we'll all believe in Santa.

THAT graduation may strengthen rather than sever the ties between the Alma Mater and her students the Alumni Association has pledged itself to unfailing cooperation with the President, the Board of Trustees, and the A. S. C. C. C. To make good their purpose the Association has promoted the interests of the college through Panther Clubs—of which there are now six: the Seaboard Panther Club (New York area), the Mid-West Panther Club (Chicago area), the Los Angeles Panther Club, the Filipino Panther Club, the Hot-Spot Panther Club (Imperial Valley), and the Northern California Panther Club in Berkeley. • The year 1934 finds the Association with three hundred and fifty graduate and former student (non-graduate) members, for whom it acts as official spokesman, enabling them to cooperate fully with all organizations, on and off the campus, for the furtherance of the Cal-Christian spirit. • The Alumnus, the publication of the Association, is issued five times yearly. Containing news from members of all graduated classes, it keeps the alumni in touch with one another, and unifies their relationships with the college. • This June the Association is being instrumental in placing a second alumnus on the Membership and Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees.

GLEE CLUBS

CARDINAL QUARTETTE

THE Cardinal Quartette was composed of Ralph McCutcheon, first tenor; Bill Julian, second tenor; Al Harlan, baritone; and Ray Linn, bass; Miss Virginia Linn, accompanist. Due to the forced absence of Ralph McCutcheon, Kenneth Baker supplied as the first tenor. When Mr. McCutcheon returned, he resumed his place in the quartette. • The quartette had daily programs over KHJ from eight to eight-fifteen and over other stations at various hours. Their work with Dr. Cheverton was very commendable. After the Help for the Day program was discontinued, the Cardinals visited the various high schools of Southern California and put on programs. These programs were put on free of charge, and were used to advertise the school. The work of this quartette cannot be realized, but it has been very successful and very well enjoyed.

UNDER the able leadership of its new director, Mr. Roy Crittenden, the Women's Glee Club had a most successful musical program throughout the year. Besides filling many concert engagements the Club combined with the Men's Glee Club in the formation of an A Capella choir. This choir won the appreciation of the students, and was judged to be the finest vocal organization ever formed within the college. • With the hearty cooperation of its entire membership the Women's Glee Club had a most interesting season.

THE Men's Glee Club experienced a very profitable year under the guidance of their director, Mr. Ray Crittenden. • Concerts were held in the Christian Churches of Glendale, Long Beach, Pasadena, Hollywood, Santa Ana, Fullerton, Wilshire, Beverly, and Los Angeles. • Most of these engagements were met jointly with the Women's Glee Club. The combination of the two clubs was invaluable for its advertisement of our college in the churches of the surrounding cities.

FORENSICS

McKay Cron

Frank Cron, Manager of Forensics
Mrs. Bertha Jackson McKay, Coach

THE forensic activities at California Christian College seek to develop a keen and practical ability in speaking for any student who desires to enter into any of its varied activities. • Cal-Christian is a member of the Men's and Women's Intercollegiate Public Speaking Leagues of Southern California in which the majority of the colleges of the southland are members. • The League contests were as follows: In Extemporaneous Speaking —Arthur Casaday represented the college. • In Oratory—Arthur Casaday tied for second place in the Men's League. • In the Interpretative Reading—Jane Julian represented our college. • Temporarily, for this year, the college did not have any events in debating. The practice of intercollegiate debating is felt to be inadequate for the needs of proper forensic development. In the future, California Christian College hopes to pioneer in new areas of debating activity. • Local forensic activity was very well participated in on the campus. • The first event of the year was the Annual Interfraternal Oratorical Contest. Mr. Ronald Menmuir, representing the Phi Alpha Chi fraternity, received first place. The subject was "Open Doors." • The Annual Schreck Good Citizenship Contest was entered by eight contestants. Exceptionally fine talent was displayed, with much potentiality for future forensic activity being shown. Jane Julian placed first, and Wesley Ford placed second. Phyllis Gruwell received third place. • The Prohibition Oratorical attracted a large number of students, and gave a real challenge to the entire student body. • The Peace Oratorical Contest brought out four students with Arthur Casaday winning the right to represent Cal-Christian in the Southern California finals in which he won second place. • In the declamation contest of Southern California Colleges Miss Jean Robertson placed second.

DRAMATICS

UNDER the supervision of Mrs. Bertha Jackson MacKay, the Department of Dramatics presented several plays in Grayson Memorial Auditorium. Chief among these was Martin Flavin's three-act comedy, "Broken Dishes." The leading roles, Cyrus Bumpstead, and his daughter, Elaine, were portrayed by Charles Wickett and Jean Robertson. Martha Havens played the part of Mrs. Bumpstead, Nea Rutherford and Patricia Cure were the two daughters, and Ellsworth Lewis, who replaced John Brinegar, who was stricken ill on the eve of the performance, played the part of Bill Clark, Elaine's suitor. Comedy relief was furnished by Bert Williams and Bill Linn, while William Bilotta and Irvin Chapman completed the cast. • Several one-act plays were produced by the class in Acting, Theory, and Technique. These included "The Florist Shop," presented for the guests at Open House; and "Salvage," which was presented at one of the chapel programs. A portion of "The Rock" was portrayed at Easter time. Students who participated in these productions were: Milton Asher, Eleanor Bothell, Connor Cole, Betty Eichbauer, Bill Linn, Zelda McNamee, Robert Phillips, and Jean Robertson.

THE evolution of the Lesser Prophet from a "Frosh Bible" into a Student Handbook is parallel to the development of California Christian College from humble beginnings to its present place of prominence in the educational world. Formerly this publication had the single purpose of orienting Freshmen to the traditions and activities of our college life. The field of utility for the Lesser Prophet was greatly enlarged when the '33-'34 edition was incorporated into a Student Handbook. • In its new form the publication contained, beside traditional material, the Associated Students Constitution, the academic grade symbols, rules governing the campus and dormitories, and many other items of practical use. • Several conditions make the preparation of this publication one of the most difficult student undertakings. As it is compiled during the summer vacation the scattering of students makes it extremely hard to secure the necessary articles from the various organization heads. The staff consists of only two people, who, because of summer employment, have to do all the financing and editing of the Handbook in their spare time. • Milton Asher, editor, and Joe Moody, business manager, deserve our sincerest commendation for their work on the current Lesser Prophet.

THE PANTHER, student paper of California Christian College, was published semi-weekly, except in the middle of the second semester when a shortage of funds necessitated its discontinuance. • This interruption is especially regrettable because of the fine quality of journalism upheld by Arthur Casaday. • Besides up-to-date campus news the paper contained many interesting features written by a clever and capable staff. • The staff is to be highly commended for giving the student body a worth-while publication, despite financial difficulties.

SOCIAL

MEN'S DORMITORY ASSOCIATION

STRIVING to achieve a fine relationship between the two groups, the men have cooperated more than ever this year with the women in the dormitory in planning parties, programs, and other activities. Each Thursday night is Guest Night in the dining room, and the men and women have furnished the programs on alternate weeks. Before Christmas vacation, the two groups had a Christmas party at which Santa Claus, alias Wes Ford, gave everyone a gift. • This year a disciplinary committee was formed composed of the members of the executive of the men's dormitory, which took care of any dormitory problems, and which attempted to maintain quiet between the hours of ten thirty p.m. and seven a.m.

AN awe-inspiring tribunal, ending with initiation for the new members was the first activity of the women's dormitory this year. In November the parlor became a beautiful chrysanthemum garden which served as a background for a tea, honoring the mothers and friends of the residents of the dormitory. • On February 14, Saint Valentine with his many, many hearts visited the girls and became the patron Saint for a tea given for the girls who live off-campus. In addition to the formal affairs, the dormitory is the scene of many festive informal spreads, birthday parties, surprises, and practical as well as impractical jokes. It is, to the girls who live there, just "home."

IT HAS been the goal of the Props and Q's to back all dramatic presentations during the year. During the first semester, the organization produced the three-act play, "Broken Dishes," and many of its members have taken part in the one-act plays given before the student body. The society is composed of all those on campus who are interested in our student body dramatic productions and who have participated in them. This is not a "social" organization. Its work is carried on silently and it receives little attention until the productions are completed.

THIS year the Ministerial Association began with a consecration retreat to achieve its purpose, which is to orient the student Christian worker into the immediate problems of the ministry and its adjacent fields. At the Camp Clarence Edwards retreat, discussions were held under the leadership of Dr. Cheverton, Dr. Cole, Rev. Minck, and Rev. O'Neal. • During the last six months this association has supervised the functioning of gospel teams which have given church programs of speakers and music to more than sixty churches. The leaders of these teams are: Art Casaday, Wesley Ford, Ronald Menmuir, and Rival Hawkins. During Easter vacation one of these teams made a circuit of Northern California and another toured Arizona. All the teams expect to continue this work during the summer.

HAVING its origin in the Y. W. C. A., this group of people interested in peace has become one of the most active organizations on the campus. "War is a crime against humanity. We therefore are determined not to support any kind of war, international or civil, and to strive for the removal of all the causes of war," is the purpose of the War Resisters' League to which the members of the Peace Promoters have subscribed. With the greatest emphasis placed on the Christian approach through study, education, and action, these people are attacking the problems of war prevention as well as peace promotion. • Presenting Dr. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, this group, together with the International Relations Club, sponsored a chapel program. They have provided the library with books, pictures, poetry, and magazine articles containing information on peace, war, and international relations. • Their semi-monthly meetings have included discussions of subjects such as "The Next World War," "The Present World Situation," and "The Study of the War Resisters' Pledge."

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

IMMEL

THE International Relations Club, composed of students interested in race problems and international good-will, has formed a definite part of the extra-curricular life on the campus. During the past year the organization, under the leadership of its president, Wilder Immel, has carried on many activities of interest and importance. The group has represented the college at conferences held in San Diego and at U. C. L. A. During the past nine months, through the assistance of the Carnegie Foundation, a library of approximately fifteen books has been collected. These books have been placed in the college library. • To stimulate an interest in world friendship and to discuss the best methods of securing this ideal, has been the paramount purpose of the club.

To PROMOTE the feelings of Christian fellowship among the men of California Christian College and to cooperate with the National Y. M. C. A. Field Council is the purpose of the Young Men's Christian Association on this campus. In attempting to achieve this purpose, the members have sponsored chapel periods, have had occasional seminar meetings, and have sent delegates, Dave Dingilian, Phil Gerrard, and Bill Linn, to the annual Asilomar conference which is held in conjunction with the Y. W. C. A. • With Coach Welch leading the discussions, the Y. M. C. A., together with the Y. W. C. A., formed an economics group which met at noon and talked about current problems. As an outgrowth of this group a two-unit class in Current Economic Problems was started the second semester and has proved to be of inestimable value to students interested in live, vital economics.

ATTEMPTING to orient the new women and to make them feel at home on this campus, the first activity of the Y. W. C. A. was a Big-Little Sister movement which contacted each new girl individually. The members of this organization have been working together during the year toward their purpose, which is to unite in the desire to realize the full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. • Furnishing fun, frolic, and fellowship to the entire campus, this group cooperated with the Y. M. C. A. in a ball-throwing, balloon-bursting, light-smashing carnival, the purpose of which was to raise money for the national groups of the two organizations. • Other activities of the women's society have been candy sales, supper meetings, a silver tea, a cabinet retreat, and installation of officers.

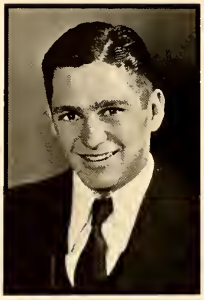
VARSITY CLUB



ENGLE

THE Varsity Club is composed of all of the men of the campus who have made a varsity letter in any sport. There are many chances where the Varsity Club can aid the school. The purpose of the club is to promote school spirit and to foster the athletic program of the school. The ideal and purpose of the club is to serve the school in any manner possible. The members participate in every college activity and not merely in athletics. The Varsity Club endeavors to arouse school spirit for the games and for all of the other activities of the college. • Although athletics is stressed, it is not given undue preference. The members of the Varsity Club are active participants in the other activities of the school. These activities include the intramural program, and the other activities of the college.

WELCH

BASKETBALL this year occupied a more important role than ever before. In the absence of football, basketball received the attention of the first semester major sport. The material was not promising, but Coach Welch enlisted the hard work and the cooperation of the players and rounded out a highly satisfactory squad. • The team suffered several defeats, but the defeats were by such narrow margins and the victories were so impressive as to warrant the excellent reputation it claimed as it went into the Hollywood Citizen tournament. The first game of the series was won, 54 to 32, over the Hollywood Y. Directors. The second game (and last one) brought the Panthers against the Universal Studios —a team claiming two former All American players and an all star squad. The Panthers played valiantly but lost the contest, 28 to 51. • Engle, Anderson, Brown, Forbes, and McAdam were returning men from last year's squad. Ferraris, Konold, Lund, Ed Lewis, Young, Williams, Elder, Wilkinson, Brinegar, Chet Crain, and Ellsworth Lewis rounded out the squad. Engle, Brown, Ferraris, Lund, Crain, Konold, and Ellsworth Lewis were awarded sweaters. Engle and Anderson are graduating.

BASEBALL

A VERY successful season was enjoyed by Coach Welch and his baseball nine. A majority of the games were victories. A feature of the record is the fact that the Panthers lost to no team over which they had not won in a second game. • The pitching was good. Towers, R. Linn, Elder, and Bilotta presented a formidable array of ball-twirlers. Linn worked at first base and Elder as catcher when Towers pitched. Engle, Ferraris, Forbes, McAdam, Renison, Chet Crain, Lund and Sellars did the fielding and batting that aided in making the season so successful. The batting of Ferraris and Engle in particular was a great aid to the team. The credit for the best fielding performance goes to Angy Ferraris. Engle and Towers are the only men who are leaving the squad. With a wealth of available material and the possibility of additional men for the squad next year, the chances look good for Cal-Christian to continue the enviable record established in the last several years in competition with the best college teams Southern California has to offer.

EMERGING from an early season defeat at the hands of Pasadena J. C. and Loyola, the Panthers developed into the best cinder squad in C. C. C. history. The season ended in a blaze of glory when they defeated Santa Barbara State and Cal. Polytechnic decisively. • Under the leadership of Bill Linn, captain and high jumper, morale and ability has risen steadily until next year, with all but Prowell and Engle returning, track bids fair to rival basketball in popularity. The loss of Prowell, high point man for the season, will be one hard to compensate. Next year's team will be built around a nucleus of lettermen. Doran, dash man and second high point man; Lewis, captain-elect, 440-man and third in individual scoring; Melrose, vaulter; Percy Williams and Chet Crain, broadjumpers; Carl Crain and Lund will hurl the javelin; Wilkinson and Williams are expected to come through in the distances; Moses and Smith are developing well in the middle distances. • The weakness of our team was indisputably in the field events. Our strength lay definitely in the races. In the last four meets, out of twenty-four flat track events we lost only one.

MINOR SPORTS

A NEW sport was enthusiastically introduced to the campus this year—Badminton. The participation was quite general. A tournament was held in the second semester with Evans Konold winning the event. The playing of the sport, however, was year-long. • Paddle-tennis was part of the elaborate program of minor sports. A tournament for the men was successfully planned and completed. The interest was, on the whole, not so satisfactory as in the other minor sports. • Early in the first semester and later in the second semester, playground ball received the attention of most of the men. Two tournaments were arranged and obtained good turnouts. • Tennis, too, took its place among the minor sports. In the second semester the men entered a men's tennis tournament. At the same time they were teaming up with women partners and staging a mixed doubles tournament. At the time this book goes to press it looks like men's singles championship will be contested for by Ouano, winner in 1933, and Murray McNeil, winner in 1932. • Presentation of attractive awards created unexpected interest in the events. Coach Welch has found these minor sports to be not just "fillers" in the athletic program, as they so often are. He knows them to be an essential part of our athletic program and a builder of men as well as of team-work, cooperation, and sportsmanship; while the students look upon them as an opportunity to develop minor abilities and an opportunity to release their desires for athletic development without stepping into the ranks of major sports.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

RICHARDSON

W. A. A. this year has gone a step farther in promoting athletics on campus than ever before. Especially successful has been the women's sports with more girls participating and more enthusiasm being shown. There are three parts which make up the program of the Association. Beside the seasonal and the all-year activities, there are the social events, which are of as great importance, for the W. A. A. does not only work toward athletics, but also to help round out the women's life while in college. • The board worked especially hard to make the year the success that it has been. Edna Allen at the head, as president of the organization, led the others in sponsoring their program of varied activities and her effort has largely been responsible for W. A. A.'s achievements. • The main feature of the fall semester was the exhibition of various activities which were given just before and during Open House. This included a circle meet, a gymnastic demonstration, final indoor game, dance recital, and the final in the tennis tournament. Another affair of importance, but of a different type, was the formal dinner at Mallard's Tea Room, which was the last activity of the year. At that time awards were presented to those girls completing sufficient numbers of seasons of activity and who have made use of every opportunity to build the spirit of sportsmanship and cooperation on the campus. Sweaters, which are the highest awards, were presented to Anita Tefft and Edna Allen; lavalieres to Phyllis Grnwell, Ruth Smith, and Elsie Emerson.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

HOCKEY

AS AN enthusiastic beginning of W. A. A.'s season Hockey had an interested following. With Phyllis Gruwell at the head of the sport the season progressed most successfully and two teams were organized, one of upper class girls, whose captain was Anita Tefft, and a team of lower class, headed by Ruth Smith. • Because the sport was the first after summer's vacation, the girls were decidedly ragged, but after several strenuous work-outs, two teams were whipped into shape. Several excellent players were found in the Freshman class and as only a few senior players are graduating, next year's hockey season promises to be even better. • The game gives opportunity not only for the development of the physical side of life, but also for the showing of a fine spirit of sportsmanship and cooperation. The teams showed excellently the qualities which make up a good team and the season was very successful.

Girls chosen for first string were:

Patricia Cure Margaret Eichbauer Jean Gifford Mildred Haulman
Irene Dobson Elsie Emerson Phyllis Gruwell Veda Mae Kolb
Doris Lowe Anita Tefft Doris Waters

RHYTHMICS

AS A climax of an unusually successful year in Rhythmics, two programs were presented by the class. In the fall semester an original dance drama, written by Eleanor Dahlstrom, was given. Under the direction of Miss Richardson, the theme, which was the Christmas story, was interestingly depicted, the dances portraying very well the moods characterized in the story. • Near the end of the school year, a program of original dances was given in a women's chapel program. The program was beautifully presented and the dances well brought out the amount of time spent on them. Among them were some interesting percussion studies which brought out the variability of the schedule of the year.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

TENNIS

TENNIS this year was more popular than ever before, as shown by the number of girls who went out for it not only for credit, but also apart from the tennis class for pure enjoyment. The season began with a peppy tennis breakfast, where the program of the year was presented—a program which has been carried out enthusiastically. During the fall semester a women's singles tournament took place in which a large number of the girls took part. In the final eliminations the games were speedy and close. Of special interest was the championship game played off at the W. A. A. picnic between Elsie Emerson and Edith Thompson, and which was won by Elsie Emerson. At the time the Ceer went to press, another tournament was being played, but not far enough along to prophesy the winner.

Top row: Dayton, Bothell, Ireland, Gruwell, Smith, Gibbs, Ellis.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

BASKETBALL

HOLDING the center of attraction, as usual, basketball had the most popular season in the history of women's sports at Cal-Christian. This year, as never before was possible, there was enough interest to make four teams and, therefore, an inter-class tournament. Close and thrilling were the final games, especially the championship play-off between the Juniors and Freshmen, both of which teams had won the same number of games. Victory was won by the Juniors, captained by Elsie Emerson, after a hard-fought game with the scrappy Frosh team, whose captain was Jean Gifford. • A spread after the final game closed the season, of which Ruth Smith had been the head. Girls who were chosen for first string were: Jean Gifford, Margaret Eichbauer, Elsie Emerson, Mildred Haulman, Ruth Smith, and Doris Waters. Honorable mention was given Lola Dayton, Jean Robertson, and Margaret Ostermeyer.

Top row: Dayton, Eichbauer, Emerson, Ostermeyer.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

BASEBALL

W. A. A.'s athletic program came to a close with a short season of baseball. Though the tournament had not been completed when the Ceer went to press, the girls were well trained and the games exciting. Interclass competition was not possible because sufficient number of girls did not come out. Therefore, Frances Lindley, manager of baseball, arranged the games between upper division and lower division girls. Nine games were to be played by the two teams, with the championship contest to be held on W. A. A.'s Field Sports Day. The teams were captained by Jean Gifford and Ruth Smith.

VOLLEYBALL

FOLLOWING hockey, volleyball came just before Christmas vacation, during one of the most hurried parts of school life. Therefore, the season suffered and there was not opportunity for a tournament. The season was carried on as a recreational activity among the men and women, instead of team activity as has been the custom heretofore. It is hoped that next year there will be a more enthusiastic turnout for this minor sport, as it is a game that gives opportunity for excellent teamwork.

CALENDAR, 1933-1934

SEPT. 8. Dear Diary: I'm really at Cal Christian. I'm so thrilled I never will get to sleep tonite. My room is a mess and I have been invited to a spread tonite. I don't know what the girl's name is. The kids are swell. It was more fun at the banquet. I met so many people—especially a real good-looking blonde fellow. Hope he lives in the dorm. Wish I knew his name. The Pres. of the Student Body is engaged. Gee I'm tired.

SEPT. 9. Dear Diary: I was supposed to "matriculate" today but all I did was make out my program. I have to take so many things. My advisor teaches Sociology. The kids say his courses are a snap if you write enough. Oh dear. My Big Sister introduced me to so many I can't remember any names at all. They all are nice tho. P. S. Saw the best-looking little fellow. He is short and has dark hair. He had on a yellow sweater, I think he smiled at me. Anyway I gave him my best smile in return. Hope he saw it. I think his name is George. My roommate tells me all the lowdown on these fellows. She has a boy friend. His name is Charles and he is from Fullerton. The girl in 213 goes with Irvin Chapman. Her name is Zelda. It's late. I have to go to bed.

SEPT. 12. Dear Diary: Boy am I tired. I met so many kids today I can't remember one name from the other. We had classes today, and they are going to be great. Don't know whether I will have very much to do. Haven't felt homesick yet. I met another fellow today. He is so funny. I wonder if he is bashful. His name is Ernest Kennedy. They call him Erny. It's grand here. Nite. P. S.—Some fellow introduced himself and said his name was Burt and that he was from San Diego. I think he wants a date. Seems nice . . .

SEPT. 13. The Seniors have a Senior Bench and no one is to sit on it or even touch it and last nite the Juniors painted it all terrible colors. I bet they get it.

SEPT. 15. Dear Diary: I always forget to wear my green beany and all the fellows talk to me and so I had to go to Kangaroo Court today. They sure swatted the fellows. I had to propose to a tall red-haired fellow. I was scared but he seems nice. My roommate says he plays the piano. His name is Ray. I could go for him in a big way. Guess I better practice my real good smile. Tonite was the Kum'n Meetum. Sure had fun. Ray marched with me. He's so nice. Guess he didn't mind my proposal today. I wonder . . .

SEPT. 18. Dear Diary: We had a Pajama Party tonite. It was fun. We played all sorts of games. We ate and then serenaded the fellows. One of the girls plays a harp so she played it for the serenade too. Gee it was thrilling. I hope Bill heard me singing. I sang as nice as I could. You should hear him sing, and is he good looking . . . I know lots of girls now. Anita is a keen sport. She is new in the dorm too.

SEPT. 19. It's 3 a.m. We sneaked out and painted green "We Do Your Part" all over the sidewalks. Honest, these Sophs have treated us fierce and we just had to get even a little.

SEPT. 20. It sounds as if all I do is go to parties. There has been so much doing that I haven't had time to study. I'm going to start next week tho, and make up all my back work. Tonite we had Dorm Initiation. Boy I was scared. There was about twice as many of us so we almost kidnapped Zelda and Nea but it didn't work out. I think they found out about it somehow. We did a lot of dumb things. I still have onion on my nose. It seems like all the keen fellows have girl friends. I still like it heaps here tho. Mother is so disappointed that I am not homesick.

OCT. 6. Dear Diary: I went to the Soph Class party. We had fun. It was Ella's birthday and did we spank her! Marty Shelton is so nice. I like her.

OCT. 9. Dear Diary: It was Charlie Wickett's birthday. We sang "Happy Birthday" to him. It is more fun—when anyone has a birthday we all sing to them. Personally I'm glad my birthday comes during summer 'cause I would be scared.

OCT. 23. Dear Diary: Just got back from the swellest Steak Bake. I never went on one before. The YWCA and YMCA gave it. They cooked the steaks over the fire and then we ate them with big buns. They tasted good. Bet I could have eaten six after playing all the games we did. It was nice 'cause we sat around the fire and Wes Ford talked and we sang. He is short and fat but he's lots of fun. Kenny was with some other girl tonite and wouldn't even look at me.

NOV. 9. Dearest Diary: I've got the ITCH. I'm isolated too. It's so nice out and Zelda and Phil and Kenny and Charles and Nea and Anita all went on a picnic and here I sit. There's a funny place on my arm that looks like it might be the ITCH so that is why I am here. They have fumigated everything and I'm so sick of this funny-smelling salve. Oh, why did I ever come here? Guess I'm not the only one that has "it!"

NOV. 17. Dear Diary: Edwin Markham spoke in Chapel today. We all had to vote and have 25c taken out of our deposits, 'cause it cost $25 to have him. He wears a big hat and has long white hair. He surely is witty. All the kids seemed to like him. I waited on him at lunch. He had the regular meal, three glasses of milk, a pot of tea, four shredded wheats, and a pitcher of milk that was half cream. He doesn't like cream—neither do I. But I never could write poetry like that even tho I don't like cream.

NOV. 22. Dear Diary: I wish you could study for me. I have so much to do. I don't know why I left everything to the last. Boy this next six weeks . . . I went to a show with Fred tonite. But I'll get up early in the morning and study.

NOV. 29. Dear Diary: Saw the best Basketball game tonite. Good thing Thanksgiving vacation starts tomorrow. Our fellows played Santa Monica J. C. and WE won, 46-33. There is the best-looking fellow and can he play! His name is Angy. Guess I'll have to get acquainted. And Lewis, well, both of them are good. Chas. Lund can sure shoot baskets. Kenny was swell. He spoke to me today.

DEC. 8. Dear Diary: The play was swell tonite. It was "Broken Dishes!" Charles Wickett was perfect. I hadn't noticed the girl that played as the heroine. She has red hair and played up to Ellsworth. I saw them holding hands after the play. I wonder . . .

DEC. 16. Dear Diary: This week has been fierce. I have had to study almost every nite—all except tonite and I went to the KDN dance at the Plaza Hotel. My roommate won a box of chocolates, so I'm happy.

DEC. 24. Dear Diary: I just received a letter that Joe Malcor and Dot Dana are married.

JAN. 1. Dear Diary: I studied so hard during vacation and got all packed for school and left on the early train and now here I sit in Dr. Peebles' Lab. awaiting the subsiding of the waters. I know how Noah felt. You should see the school, especially the dining room. Wes and Johnny Brinegar and Al Kenny and Ron and Evy and Joe are scooping out mud by the bucketfulls. The chairs were floating around clear up by the ceiling. I can't imagine what the piano looks like as yet. You should see the kitchen. All you have to do is think of all the things down there and then add MUD. Well the only enjoyable part is that we don't have school for a week. We don't have any heat or lights. It might be more fun if it wasn't all so muddy.

JAN. 11. Well, it sure has been a swell way to start out a new year. Everything is about all fixed, at least so we can go to classes. Tonite was guest nite and the AMS had the cleverest thing. We forgot all about the Panther that was in the dining room and of course he was in the flood. The flood merely parted him and he got tired and quit. They had him fixed on a nice casket. He looked like he had relaxed. The pall-bearers looked sad. Well, life must go on.

JAN. 13. Dear Diary: Well, tonite and today was Home-Coming Day. I was already here so couldn't come. Lots of people were here and almost everyone knew everyone else except me. We Frosh were just out of it, but then in four years we can come home, and see all our old class-mates. It sounds as if I am getting old. It doesn't seem like I have been here almost a semester. Zelda and my roommate were almost drowned. Wes Ford saw their heads stuck out the window so he played cloudburst. Serves them right for being so nosey about the kids parked in front.

JAN. 15: Ruby found a little pan of water in her bed tonite. She sat right in it, so I was told. I wonder who could have done such a thing? Jean Gifford found some rocks in her bed. Oh, well, guess I'll go to bed. P. S.—Say am I sore! Some one short-sheeted my bed; of all the . . .

JAN. 19. Dear Diary: Ron won the Interfraternal Oratorical Contest. Of course I am a girl and my roommate is a Beta Chi, but anyhow it was a good contest. Maybe when I'm a senior I'll speak. Ahem.

JAN. 22-26. Dear Diary: Whoever told me Hertzog's classes were a cinch is goofy. I never studied so hard before. We had finals all this week. It just kills my college spirit 'cause I haven't had a date all week. I really did have to study 'cause I've sort of "gone" to classes. Guess I'll make a New Year's Resolution to study.

FEB. 8. Dear Diary: Ruth Keylin is going to Russia. Wouldn't that be thrilling? We had a very special Guest Nite for her. I hope she writes to me.

Ability—the capacity to serve acceptably,

FEB. 13. Dear Diary: This afternoon we had a tea for the Off-Campns girls. It was Valentine's almost, at least we wore them on our sleeve. About half of us have colds. Seems like a family affair. At least we stick together on things.

MARCH 2: I had more fun tonite. Went to the YWCA Carnival with Ray. Everything was a penny. I owe him 8c. You should have seen Dr. Cheverton break light globes. I think Edgar Lloyd beat him tho. Dr. Cheverton had the funniest little paper conductor hat. Gee it's swell to have a Pres. that is so nice. He spoke to me and so I yelled for him when he and Edgar Lloyd were throwing darts. Dr. Braden from Transylvania, who used to be Pres. of CCC, was here. He spoke at dinner. I'll bet he is lots of fun. I'm so tired. P. S.—I think Ray likes me.

MARCH 4. Dear Diary: The wedding was lovely. Melva looked darling and George didn't seem a bit scared. We had to sit in the balcony 'cause there were so many there. The little flower girl kept jumping over Melva's train during the ceremony. She was so cute. Well, it's Mr. and Mrs. George Haskell now! Ray is awful nice and Kenny might be nice if I knew him better, but Bill goes with Beth, and Fred sorta likes Irene, and Ellsworth is going "steady" with Jean. Guess I'll have to be an old maid.

MARCH 10. Dear Diary: Phyllis is knitting the prettiest pink sweater. Zelda is going to make one too. My roommate says she won't make one but I would like to. Elsie and Irene Pickett are making Afghans so it looks like I am lazy.

MARCH 16: The Beta Chi's had a rnsh party so here I am at Long Beach. Gee I never thot I'd get an invite. We ate so much supper and then we all went down on the Pike. I'm so sick from riding on the Roller Coaster and some funny bucket thing. Gee I'm worn ont. I hope they like me. My fork fell on the floor at dinner but I don't think anyone saw it.

MARCH 30-APRIL 12: It's a good thing Easter Vacation arrived. I never would have lasted. It has been swell to be home and sleep. Sunday afternoon, Hazel and Larry Sellars and Al Kenny and Bill Linn were here and stopped on their way to the Valley. They are going as a Gospel Team. I'd like to go with them. They made a big hit down here. Wish more people could have heard them.

APRIL 4: Boy are the Juniors DUMB! The Seniors sneaked off about 1 a.m. Ellsworth and Ed and Harmon went to crash the party. Some of the Seniors are back and they are letting the three fellows walk home, minns much clothing. They had a fight but the Juniors are the ones to snffer. Personally the Seniors look awful tired and were sort of sore when they found their rooms stacked. They look sunburned too. I'd hate to be a Senior tonite.

You'll Enjoy It

There is a big difference in Ice Creams . . . you have often noticed it . . . some are lacking in "that thing" which makes ice cream something really to enjoy. You'll enjoy Beverly Dairies Ice Cream because it is richer, more tasty, and has more real body and food value. It is exceptionally high in the essential vitamins, A, B, C, D. Beverly Dairies Ice Cream is recommended by physicians because of its wholesomeness, purity and high quality.

Compliments of a Friend

I want to congratulate the students of California Christian College upon having the opportunity of securing their higher education in a Christian atmosphere. • It is much easier to build a sturdy Christian character and develop an attractive personality in this environment than in any other.

CHARLES C. CHAPMAN.

APRIL 6. Dear Diary: Only one class today and all the rest excused for Founders' Day. The Pageant was the best ever. I was in it and Jay came and stood by me. We ate lunch in the court. The Glee Club sang and had the funniest skit about Captain John Smith. There were lots of people here. Mr. Chapman came. I'm sure glad he started this school. I sure love it.

APRIL 11. Dear Diary: What a relief. We can really sit and eat without feeling like a bridge going out. The Senior Class had a luncheon today and presented the school with 200 chairs. The other ones that had endured the flood were so tired, I felt sorry for them. Honestly you can't imagine how it feels to sit down and relax. I think the Seniors are swell.

APRIL 13. Dear Diary: I'm tired. Tonite was the Women's Formal. We Freshmen girls had to serve. We all wore old-fashioned costumes and did a little Minuet. It was lots of fun and everyone liked it so much. I had Bob Phillips for my partner. He's real good-looking—sort of light hair and just the right height for me. Hope he asks me for a date tonite 'cause I think I look demure in this costume. It makes me look thin. There were so many here tonite and the program was the "Show Boat" idea. Marty sure worked on it. My roommate was the hostess. I hope I can be hostess sometime.

APRIL 20. Dear Diary: The Beta Chi's had their Formal. We went to see George Arliss in "House of Rothschild" at Grauman's. Then we had supper at the Roosevelt. It was so much fun. I had the prettiest corsage of Talisman roses. I was scared to ask Bob but he liked it and was real nice to me. I think he likes me a little. P. S.—I don't know why but the Beta Chi's and Phi Alpha Chi's and The KDN's are in the Dog House. I haven't seen any.

APRIL 29. Dear Diary: What a week. With all these Midterms and then with the Men's Return—Ellsworth looks like my roommate did before the Women's Formal, only worse. Anyhow it's quite nice to have such a lovely dinner and just sit and enjoy oneself. It was a Russian theme and a darling little lady from Russia spoke.

MAY 4. Dear Diary: I cried today because it was Recognition Day and all the Seniors marched in, in their Caps and Gowns. Then tonite I about died laughing at the Soph-Senior Insanities. Frank Melrose and his Stooge (Fred Fertig) were swell. It was the nuttiest and cleverest and best party of the whole year. I'm glad I'll be here for the Jr.-Senior Insanities next year. I was so thrilled to get to sit next to the guest speaker, Hal Erickson. His girl friend, Edeline Lewis, was darling. I think she was the prettiest girl there except I think I looked rather nice in my formal.

MAY 5. Dear Diary: I'm still so full I'm about to pop. We ate so much. We had chicken legs, biscuits and honey, and apple pie and coffee. If I ever see another biscuit I think I'll turn into one. We had to eat it all with our fingers. Charlie Wickett is the new Pres. of KDN.

MAY 15. ETC. Dear Diary: This is the last time I will have a chance to write in you before school is out. There are so many things happening. I have so many papers to write and my finals will be awful I know. Friday nite is Open House. There are about 200 prospective students coming. We have to show the people all over the campus and entertain them. Peg is working on the programs for them. I think they are going to be good. Of course the quartette will sing, maybe the trio. I haven't heard what else is happening. I really won't mind Friday nite if there are some handsome fellows around. Sat nite is the WAA Formal banquet and Anita is the new president. You know, if it wasn't so hot I wouldn't mind all the studying I have to do, but I'd much rather be at the beach. I think the Juniors are giving the Seniors a beach party about the 25th so think I shall get busy for a date out of one of these Juniors. I'm not as bashful as I used to be. I think I will come back next year 'cause this is really the best school I ever went to. I'll be a Sophomore and will I get even with the Freshmen that come in! Sure will miss Ford and Ron and Rival and Margaret. Oh, Rival and Margaret are getting married Sat., June 9. Lola and Dale, and Edna and Babcock, Norma and Merril, soon, and Elsie Emerson announced her engagement last week. Well I know I'll come back and here's hoping for luck next year. Don't know what I'll be doing this summer but I'll see you all next year and here's hoping for a real vacation and the best of years next year.

Goodnite.
